

Section 1 Enrichment 2006

By David & Chris Baldiga

“He’s Got the Whole World in His Hands” was the enrichment that brought together 100 WWME lovers on Saturday, September 30. All in attendance agreed that the presentations given by four couples and four priests provoked many new thoughts and ideas for moving forward in their relationships, as well as participation in their areas. Couples and priests were randomly placed at tables for the presentations, providing for lively conversation and mingling of ideas from each area. While the registration couple said that the assignments were arbitrary, many couples noted that the couples and priests assigned to their table were just the people they needed to be with on that day. The Holy Spirit was again at work in Section 1! Couples also commented on the day taking them back to their original weekend while challenging them to move beyond. We left with a greater sense of mission and a desire to be FAMIS!
