

Have you met ERL?

by Tony & Cathy Wiczak, WWME Community Pillar Coordinators

Do you need outlines for a presentation? Are you looking for inviting ideas? Do you want to know about the history of WWME? Do you want to know how to revitalize your community? The answer man is ERL -- Encounter Resource Library that is! ERL can be found on line at erl.wwme.org

ERL is just about the most useful warehouse of information ever compiled by WWME. It is accessible to all encountered couples with a few clicks of your mouse. Rather than reinventing the wheel, you can go to ERL and see what others have already developed. The collective creative genius of encountered couples and priests throughout our country and beyond is being channeled to this central location so that all of us can access good ideas. The files on ERL can be downloaded and used by you in your community.

If you have an article, outline, flyer, etc. that you would like to see posted on ERL, please direct it to the appropriate pillar coordinators via email:

Weekend Pillar	Gene & Maggie Tokraks	Tokraks@cox.net
Structure Pillar	John & Ann Geer	jgeer@cox.net
Team Pillar	Pat & Terri O'Hara	pohara4532@comcast.net
Community Pillar	Tony & Cathy Wiczak	tony-cathy@comcast.net

We invite you to visit ERL often as new documents are being added regularly!
