

“Men are Like Waffles, Women are Like Spaghetti”

Jack & Karen Baker, eMatrimony Editors

Having received no articles to post on eMatrimony, we went searching for what is going on in our WWME world. We started at www.wwme.org and looked under Already Encountered/Other ME Sites. Our attention was drawn to one of our favorites – Australia - a little snooping around led us to the following news letter http://www.wwme.org.au/spirit/EU_Spirit_2006_Winter.pdf

Where one of the articles was:

Waffles & Spaghetti goes to Canberra!!!

The M.E. Canberra community are hosting their first ‘Day of Growth’ and warmly invite couples (married, engaged and dating couples) to join in the fun and humour of the day – all about ‘understanding and delighting in our gender differences’ and learning how this can help us fulfill God’s plan for us. This one day relationship enrichment seminar just gets better and better each time it is presented! It’s not always the same couples either – this time the 3 presenting teams will be the Goodes, the Kauczs and the Gabins!

Details:

Date: Sunday 23 July
Time: 10.00am – 4.00pm
Place: Girl Guide Hall,
Newham Street,
YARRALUMLA, ACT 2600

You may not be headed to Australia this summer but we highly recommend you try the link to their Spirit News Letter is very interesting.

Then we remembered receiving a copy of the WWME Massachusetts and Rhode Island area newsletter for January 2007, where the theme is:

Waffles and Spaghetti

ENRICHMENT: "Men are like Waffles, Women are like Spaghetti"

If you are interested in a great topic for an enrichment, check out the book by Christian authors Bill & Pam Farrel, "Men are Like Waffles, Women are Like Spaghetti: Understanding and Delighting in Your Differences".

We all want our relationships to be happy and harmonious. That's why so many of our decisions are affected by how we think our wife or husband, as a member of the opposite sex will respond. This book is about helping us better understand the differences between men and women using a novel approach - Men are like Waffles, Women are like Spaghetti.

It was God's plan to make us different from each other from the moment he imagined us. His plan was to use these differences between male and female as away to build intimate and rewarding relationships. Unfortunately, as with many gifts from God, we have managed to complicate it.

We have not read the book but our interests are surely peaked with just two of the many WWME areas around the world supporting enrichments with the same theme.

You might consider reading the book and watching to see if the Encounter Resources Library (ERL.wwme.org) gets some suggested Presentation Outlines.

Love & Prayers,
Jack & Karen
